

Recognize the different components of and approaches to a pediatric history on different age groups

- a. Small group (if possible) teaching session on relevant age appropriate history (eg. adolescent psychosocial, birth history in newborn)
- b. Standardized patients or direct practice with children of different ages and developmental stages
 - i. home-schooled children
 - ii. nursery schools/daycares
 - iii. elementary/middle/high schools
 - iv. faculty/resident children
- c. In the preceptor visit curriculum including pediatricians
 - i. longitudinal continuity with a pediatric preceptor
 - ii. deliberate exposure to a pediatric practice
- d. Newborn nursery clinical experiences
- e. Pediatric boot camp prior to clerkship
- f. Role Plays with common pediatric history scenarios

Assessment Strategies:

(Direct Observation, Checklist, Passport, Short Answer questions, small group participation, OSCE)
